

DEMOCRATS WIN IN MANY SECTIONS OF U. S.

WOMEN REPUBLICANS PLAN NEXT CAMPAIGN

Workers Are Undismayed by Unexpected Defeat of Their Party.

SMITHS ARE JOYFUL

Wife of Governor-Elect Felt Husband's Victory 'in Her Bones.'

VERY FOND OF ALBANY

Says She and Children Look on State's Capital as Their Home Now.

Women in the opposing political camps took the result of yesterday's election just as they would that of any game. The Democratic leaders burst into screams of joy as the bulletins telling of the landslide for Alfred E. Smith were read to them in their joint headquarters with the men in the Hotel Biltmore. They popped big silver and red balloons in their exuberance and swung into a dance when the first good tidings were announced.

They showed pluck at the Republican headquarters in West Thirtieth street, where Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, Miss Helen Varick Boswell, Miss Laura Skinner and hosts of others who had campaigned for the reelection of Gov. Miller, admitted that they couldn't understand the defeat of their party. But they were ready to start out bright and early to-day and work for the next election.

Mrs. Smith, wife of the Democratic favorite, heard the first news of how the men and women had voted overwhelmingly for "Al" when she arrived at the Biltmore after dinner. With her were the Smith children, filled with joy, and not too proud to show it, except young Arthur, who is 15, and who took his father's victory seriously.

Later in the evening the boy's seriousness was off. He grabbed his sister, Katherine, 17, by the waist and danced around the room. Emily, who is 18, fell into step with Mr. Lawrence Lewis.

"Move back, move back," shouted Dr. Henry Moskowitz to the crowd. "Let the young folks dance."

"Oh give the old folks some rights," remonstrated Miss Anna Mathews, Republican of New York county. "We cast the vote, didn't we?"

"It's perfectly wonderful," Mrs. Smith told reporters. "But, of course, I knew it would happen. I wanted Al to have whatever he wanted. And we all like Albany. The children feel that it's home now and everybody is so nice to them. It's delightful to think that we can hear the results early, instead of having to stay up till midnight. We're still living at Sea Gate and are going back there to-night."

"Did you think he'd be elected?" interrupted an enthusiastic friend.

"I felt it in my bones from the first," replied the wife of the victorious candidate.

When "Al" arrived he was lifted by a score of friends to the top of a table where he made a short speech. Mrs. Smith, standing nearby and holding a huge bunch of roses, was next lifted up beside him and the new Governor said he'd make a speech for her but before doing it he gave her a kiss and a kiss.

Among those noticed at the headquarters of the women's committee were Mrs. Norman de R. Whitehouse, Mrs. John Blair, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Frederick Greene, Mrs. Raymond Brown, Mrs. John Gilchrist, Miss Frances Perkins and Magistrate Norris.

Miss Laura Skinner (Republican), captain of the Thirtieth Election district of the Fifth Assembly district, said that she had carried her district 200 per cent. Of the 311 voters registered there were 65 who voted straight Republican ticket and 98 who voted a straight Democratic ticket. Ogden L. Mills had 192 against the Democratic candidate's 84.

Charles H. Sabin, one of the active workers in the campaign and president of the Women's National Republican Club said, "I don't know how to explain the result, but I thought I think the light wins and beer platform of the Democratic party had a great deal to do with it. However, we women are going to start to work on the next campaign. I carried my own district I am proud to say."

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, associate chairman of the Republican County Committee, said: "I can only account for our defeat by the fact that a great many Republicans must have voted the Democratic ticket. We are not discouraged, but will go right ahead with our organizing."

COPELAND HAS RECORD OF LOW DEATH RATE

As Health Commissioner Here He Has Combated Epidemics.

Dr. Royal S. Copeland has the distinction of having been Mayor of a city in one State and elected United States Senator in another. He was Mayor of Ann Arbor, Mich., from 1901 to 1902. He was born in Decatur, Mich., on November 7, 1858, the son of Dr. Joseph and Frances J. Holmes Copeland. He worked his way through the University of Michigan, where he was graduated in medicine in 1883. After studying abroad and practicing at Bay City, Mich., he returned to the State University and became professor of ophthalmology. He was president of the Ann Arbor Board of Education for one year. He came to New York in 1908 as dean of the New York Homeopathic Medical College and Flower Hospital.

He followed the practice of medicine in his specialty, diseases of the eye, exclusively until April 25, 1918, when Mayor Hylan made him Commissioner of Public Health. He has had several epidemic outbreaks to contend with, including infantile paralysis, but in his term New York had the lowest death rate in its history. In the Democratic convention at Syracuse last September he was unexpectedly nominated for United States Senator. After consulting Mayor Hylan he accepted.

Dr. Copeland is the author of several scientific books. He married, on July 15, 1908, Frances Spaulding of Ann Arbor. They have a city home at 68 Central Park, West and a farm in Suffern, N. Y.

Health Commissioner Elected to Senate

BEVERIDGE RUNS BEHIND IN SENATORIAL ELECTION

the beer and wine constitutional amendment took a jump when 100 precincts in Hamilton county (Cincinnati) were heard from, making the vote for the amendment 64,445 and against 63,445 on returns from 676 precincts.

Texas.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 7.—Partial returns from 15 out of 251 counties in Texas gave for United States Senator: Mayfield, Democrat, 2,497; Paddy, Republican, 2,185. For Governor: Neff, Democrat, 6,211; Atwell, Republican, 508.

A blanket challenge of all ballots on which Mayfield's name appeared as Senatorial candidate and of all votes for Mayfield cast by such ballots, was presented at practically all boxes in Wichita county to-day by Paddy supporters. The challenge was presented verbally at each of the polling places, the contention being that the injunction issued by Judge Blackman at Greerbeck against placing Mayfield's name on the ballot is still in force and effect.

Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 7.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, a 5 to 1 favorite in tonight's early returns, in to-day's Wisconsin election, has been elected United States Senator by a majority conservatively estimated to exceed 200,000 over his opponent, Mrs. Jessie Jack Hooper, who headed the shattered Democratic-Independent ticket. Available returns from 202 out of 222 precincts at 10 o'clock gave La Follette, 28,757; Hooper, 27,326.

Closely following Senator La Follette was his running mate, Gov. John J. Blaine. The vote of the gubernatorial race from the same number of precincts was Blaine, Republican, 2,363; Bentley, Democrat-Independent, 2,294.

Seven of the State's Republican incumbent Congressmen, all La Follette supporters, also have been returned, according to early returns, while in the Eleventh District, Democrat, Drayton H. Stafford, incumbent (Rep.) in returns from three precincts reporting to-night.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 7.—The Rev. O. J. Kvale of Bonson was leading Representative A. J. Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement act in the first four precincts to report from the Seventh Congressional District contest. These precincts gave Kvale 197 and Volstead 128.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 7.—Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock tonight conceded the election of his Republican opponent R. B. Howell, Republican National Committee. In congratulating his successor the Senator said that he estimated Mr. Howell's majority would be 22,000 or more.

Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 7.—Ninety-five precincts out of 1,525 in Montana give for Senator—Hitchcock (Rep.), 7,776; Wheeler (Dem.), 12,721. For Congressman (First District), 4,808; Evans (Dem.), 6,484. Congressman (Second District)—Leavitt (Rep.), 1,273; Moss (Dem.), 914.

Michigan.

DETROIT, Nov. 7.—United States Senator Charles E. Townsend a lead over Woodbridge N. Ferris, his Democratic opponent for the Senatorship, was approximately 5,000 at 11 o'clock to-night, when 290 scattering precincts had reported. The reports did not include any from the large city.

In 283 precincts Gov. Alex G. Groesbeck (Rep.) held a comfortable lead for the Democratic aspirant for his office, Alva M. Cummins. The vote was: Groesbeck, 24,282; Cummins, 14,794. Republican Congressional candidates were leading in all districts heard from. A close vote was recorded on the proposed income tax amendment on returns from eighty-three of the 2,906 precincts. The vote was: Yes, 2,757; No, 2,848. All the returns were from rural centers.

North Dakota.

FARGO N. D. Nov. 7.—(Associated Press).—Returns from seven out of 2,158 precincts in North Dakota give for Governor: Neaton (Rep.), 535; Lemke (Ind.), 137. For United States Senator, Frazier (Rep.), 194; O'Connor (Dem.), 557.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—For United States Senator partial returns from 224 precincts give Johnson (Rep.), 2,844; Pearson (Dem.), 1,331; Needham (Pro.), 13, Sinclair (Iso) 3.

Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 7.—(Associated Press).—Miss Alice Robertson, Republican, the only woman in Congress, was running badly behind in the early returns from the Second district. With 17 precincts out of 266 heard from W. V. Hastings, Democrat, whom Miss Robertson defeated in 1920, had 5,188 votes and Miss Robertson's total was only 2,565.

Wyoming.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 7.—Returns from 59 precincts of the 650 in Wyoming show United States Senator John R. Kendrick, Democratic candidate for reelection, leading his Republican opponent, Frank W. Mondell, Republican floor leader in the House of Representatives, by nearly 300 votes. The figures were: Kendrick, 2,075; Mondell, 1,798.

Idaho.

BOISE, Idaho, Nov. 7.—C. C. Moore (Rep.) is leading in the gubernatorial race in Idaho with twenty precincts out of 801 received. The vote is: Moore (Rep.), 1,361; Alexander (Dem.), 1,372; Samuels (Pro.), 1,276. Both French and Smith, incumbents, running for Congress on the Republican ticket, were leading their opponents.

Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 7.—(Associated Press).—Seventeen precincts out of 1,921 in Nebraska, scattered through a dozen counties, gave for Senator: Howell (Rep.), 2,179; Hitchcock (Dem.), 1,564. Sixteen precincts gave for Governor, Randall (Rep.), 1,498; Bryan (Dem.), 2,965.

Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 7.—First returns from Minnesota's election to-day came from Polk county, where in the United States Senatorial contest Kellogg received 167 votes in two precincts, Shipstead 253, and Mrs. Olsen 49.

Oklahoma.

OKLAHOMA, Nov. 7.—(Associated Press).—Returns from 289 precincts out of 2,937 in Oklahoma gave J. B. Walton, Democrat, a lead of nearly 11,000 votes over John Fields, Republican, for Governor. The vote: Walton, 27,808; Fields, 16,858.

Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 7.—Kenneth D. McKellar, Democratic candidate for reelection as United States Senator, was leading Newell Sanders, Republican nominee, more than two to one, according to unofficial returns from 642 precincts out of a total of 2,650 in Tennessee. Returns from these precincts give McKellar 28,807 votes, Sanders 15,399.

Returns from the same precincts give Austin Peay, Democratic nominee for Governor, 43,763, and Alf Taylor, Republican candidate for reelection, 24,408.

Vermont.

MONTEPELIER, Nov. 7.—Representative Frank L. Greene, Republican, was leading William B. Mayo, Democrat, by a majority of more than 15,000, with returns from more than half the State tabulated at 10 o'clock to-night.

Rhode Island.

PROVIDENCE, Nov. 7.—With the returns tabulated from half the State, not including Concord, which went Democratic by about 1,000, and Manchester, where a Democratic majority of 7,000 to 3,000 was estimated, the result for Governor was believed at 11 o'clock to be in doubt. The vote was 28,442 for Goodnow (Rep.) and 24,569 for Brown (Dem.). In 150 out of 294 precincts these totals gave J. O. Brown (Rep.) a majority of 14,500 two years ago.

Congressman Edward H. Wason (Rep.) appeared to have been re-elected in the Second district, but in this first district the result was believed to be in doubt.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 7.—Fred Hakeman, Democratic Congressional candidate from the Third district on a light wine and beer platform, was leading his Republican opponent, T. J. B. Robinson, nearly two to one on early reports.

In the Second district early returns gave W. G. Cook, Democrat, 4,069 and Harry E. Hull, Republican, 3,796. Elsewhere in the State Republican candidates for Congress had comfortable leads in fragmentary returns.

Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 7.—Seventeen precincts out of 204 gave: Senator, Bayard, Democrat, 9,161; Du Pont, Republican, 9,565. Congress, Boyce, Democrat, 9,433; Layton, Republican, 5,072.

MISSOURI FOR REED BY 25,000 MARGIN

Sweeps Country Districts and Gains in Republican Strongholds.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7.—Incomplete returns from scattered sections of Missouri up to 10:30 o'clock to-night indicated the reelection of James A. Reed, Democrat, for United States Senator, over R. R. Brewster, Republican, by approximately 25,000 votes. The figures at this time from 1,905 out of a total of 3,873 precincts gave Reed 104,112; Brewster, 88,332.

Reed showed early strength in rural Missouri and rolled up strong and consistent gains as the returns came in from sections of the State where it had not been expected that he would receive more than an even break. It had been conceded that Brewster would come into Kansas City and St. Louis with at least 40,000 votes which would more than offset the 20,000 votes Reed would pile up in the two cities. Returns at this hour indicate that Reed has swept the country districts which were Democratic strongholds and in addition made strong gains in Republican ballfields and settlements of German extraction.

Reed's greatest strength, outside Kansas City and St. Louis, came from doubtful counties. In north Missouri counties he suffered unexpected losses for two reasons, one being bitterness engendered by his fight on Woodrow Wilson and the other his attitude on liquor. In Henry, Bates and Vernon counties in western Missouri Reed suffered heavy losses by advocates of the League of Nations and Woodrow Wilson. Temperance organizations cut heavily into Reed's vote. It was expected that Brewster would lead Reed in this district, but the vote is running close. Pike county also was a disappointment for Reed forces. Two years ago Breckinridge Long carried Pike county in the teeth of the landslide by more than 1,000. St. Genevieve, Clinton and a few other counties and close, politically, swung heavily to Reed in the early returns.

The results from St. Louis and Kansas City are coming in slowly with Reed leading by a large margin from the precincts reported, and steadily gaining.

The Democrats appear to have captured more than one-half of the Congressmen of the State. The heavy Republican slump was due to a number of reasons, chief of which was dissatisfaction with the National and State Administration on tax and industrial questions. Labor unions apparently swung their membership into the Democratic column and Reed profited largely from the source of balloting. Another outstanding feature of the balloting was the swing to Reed in German communities in which hostility to prohibition ran high.

POLICE MUSICIANS SING AND PLAY FOR SMITH

Mock Funeral for Miller Held in Center Street.

As soon as the members of the Police Band and the Police Club were released from reserve duty last night they assembled in front of Police Headquarters and played "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and "The Streets of New York." Then they piled into four motor trucks and went up to serenade Smith headquarters at the Biltmore.

A few minutes later a political funeral procession passed along Center street. A hearse was followed by six coaches, and in the hearse was a white coffin labeled "Miller."

RECEPTION ACCLAIMS SUCCESS OF O'BRIEN

Several Thousand Do Honor to Surrogate-elect.

A reception in honor of Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien, Tammany's successful candidate for Surrogate, was held in the east ballroom of the Hotel Commodore last night. Several thousand persons were there, including Mayor Hylan and Grover A. Whalen, Commissioner of Plant and Structures.

JOIN MISS MACSWINEY IN JAIL HUNGER STRIKE

Other Women Arrested on Same Day Refuse Food.

DUBLIN, Nov. 7.—The other women arrested on the same day as Miss Mary MacSwiney joined to-day in her hunger strike at Mountjoy prison. Miss MacSwiney was brought back weak after her exercise to-day and requested that she might be permitted to see Dr. Kathleen Lynn, but the application was refused.

At a meeting of protest held here to-night Mrs. Maude Gomis MacIntyre called upon the assembly to denounce the "crowding in" of the attempt to murder the sister of Torrence MacSwiney. Mrs. Despard suggested that women volunteers picket night and day the residences of those responsible for the arrest of Miss MacSwiney until she was released.

SHACKLETON'S MEN NOW BACK IN ENGLAND

Survivors of Antarctic Trip Return in Quest.

LONDON, Nov. 6.—The explorers who accompanied the late Sir Ernest Shackleton to the Antarctic on his last voyage recently returned to England in the Quest. They were absent one year. Since the death of Shackleton in the Antarctic in January the explorers had been led by Capt. Frank Wild. He believes important scientific results have been secured, and says these soon will be officially recorded.

J. Q. Rowett, who financed the expedition, was the first to greet the survivors of the Quest on their return. He congratulated the men on their efforts.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP JUDICIAL OFFICES

O'Brien Beats Cohalan, Who Leads Coleman for Surrogate.

The Democrats made a clean sweep of the judicial offices and elected the District Attorney of Kings County.

Corporation Counsel John P. O'Brien, the Tammany candidate for Surrogate in Manhattan, has easily defeated Municipal Court Justice Frank J. Coleman, Republican, and Surrogate John P. Cohalan who ran independently after Murphy had refused him the nomination. The first returns from twenty election districts gave O'Brien 2,653 to 1,937 for Cohalan and 1,600 for Coleman.

William D. Carswell, Assistant Corporation Counsel, who was the Tammany candidate for the Supreme Court Justice of the Second District topped the ticket and ran ahead of his Democratic colleague William F. Hagarty in virtually every election district in Kings, Queens, Nassau and Suffolk. Both Democrats led their Republican competitors, Justice N. Gannon and William H. Hayes, by wide margins. It was figured on the basis of early returns that Brooklyn alone would give Carswell a plurality of 80,000 to 30,000. Mayor Hylan campaigned in his behalf.

Charles J. Dodd, the Democratic candidate for District Attorney in Kings County overwhelmed District Attorney John E. Ruston, Republican, and it was estimated that when the complete returns come in he will have rolled up a plurality of 30,000 or more. Returns from eighty districts in Brooklyn gave Dodd 12,057 and Ruston, 11,735.

William Harman Black, Democratic candidate for Supreme Court Justice in the First district, was leading Robert McC. Marsh, the Republican candidate, by a heavy margin, but did not appear to be running even with the rest of the ticket. Based on the returns of forty districts in Manhattan, Black should receive about 24,000 plurality. In the Bronx he maintained a safe lead, but based on returns from thirty election districts was not due to get a plurality of more than 40,000.

The one contest for election to the Court of General Sessions goes to the Democrats in the victory of Justice Cor. Collins P. Collins, Democrat, over Justice Robert S. Johnston, the Democratic appointee of Gov. Miller, who was nominated by the Republicans. Justice Morris Koenig was nominated by both camps and assured of election.

For Justice of the City Court John E. McGeehan, Democrat, won easily over John A. Bolles, Republican.

"Where did the club get those good-looking prizes?"

IN MANY GOLF CLUBS this year the prize committee discarded the old-fashioned "loving cup" as an outworn institution and offered instead attractive, useful and out-of-the-ordinary prizes.

And the moral to be drawn from the patronage of this brilliant array of clubs is this: That distinction in prizes, as in gifts, is to be had at "The Gift Shop of Fifth Avenue."

A partial list of the clubs who selected their prizes at Ovington's is given herewith.
